

Trumpet, Flugelhorn

Trunino Lowe is one of Detroit's young promising musicians. Born & raised in Detroit, Michigan and is a proud graduate of Detroit School of Arts. Finding his love for music began early, but it wasn't until he attended DSA where he pursued his career as a professional musician. Lowe spent 2 years at the illustrious Michigan State University under the direction of Rodney Whitaker where he gained new knowledge that expanded his communication and palette with the history of music. Trunino now serves as a bandleader, sideman, composer, and mentor. Mentored by Detroit Trumpeters Kris Johnson, Dwight Adams, Rayse Biggs, and John Douglas. He's a part of the jazz lineage of Detroit and strongly believes in continuing the Legacy.

Trunino has performed with some of the finest musicians the world has to offer. He's played with the likes of Marion Hayden, Wendell Harrison, Marcus Elliot, Rodney Whitaker, Ralphe Armstrong, Kris Johnson, Karriem Riggins, Endea Owens, Russell Hall, Sean Jones, Stefon Harris, Carl Allen, Charles Tolliver, Dee Dee Bridgewater, Terri Lynn Carrington, Jazzmeia Horn, Willerm Delisfort, & others. Lowe was a 2017 Ravinia Steins Jazz Fellow. Geri Allen Fellow through the Carr Center from 2017-2019. A JAS Academy student in 2021. A member of the Gathering Orchestra led by Rodney Whitaker. A member of the Paradise Big Band led by Kris Johnson. He's performed on some very prestigious stages such as, Dizzy's Club Coca-Cola (NYC), Jazz Showcase (CHI), Detroit Jazz Festival, Baker's Keyboard Lounge (DET).
